

Getting Started with React Essentials

(TT4190)

Price: 2195

Duration: 3 days

Delivery Methods: Virtual

Overview

React is one of the most in-demand tools for building fast and interactive web applications, and learning it can open the door to exciting new projects and career opportunities. In this engaging three day expert-led course, you will get hands-on experience creating modern React applications from the ground up. You will not just follow along with examples but build real projects that help you understand why React works the way it does and how to use it effectively. You will walk away with the confidence to create polished user interfaces using tools like TailwindCSS and Material UI and apply best practices that keep your code clean and easy to maintain.

You will strengthen your ability to create powerful React applications by working directly with the key patterns and tools used every day on the job. You will learn how to manage dynamic data and interactions with React Hooks, create reusable components, handle complex forms, and work smoothly with routing and REST APIs. You will also sharpen your testing and debugging skills so you can catch problems early and deliver reliable applications. The course is about fifty percent hands-on so you will spend plenty of time applying what you learn and getting expert feedback in a supportive environment.

This course is designed for web developers who have some JavaScript experience and want to become fully job ready with React. Whether you are moving into a React role for the first time or want to strengthen your skills for your team or company, this course will give you the real world techniques and knowledge you need to succeed. You will leave with the ability to build modern applications using the latest React features and tools, ready to take on new challenges and contribute with confidence.

NOTE: For a deeper dive into React essentials with extended topics and labs, you might consider the five day React Boot Camp (TT4195) course as an alternative. The five day Boot Camp is a superset of this three day React Essentials (TT4190) course.

Audience Profile
